Insights for Parents

COMMUNICATION

Clear communication helps your child succeed.

Best ways to contact me:

✉ Email – jack.reynolds@education.wa.edu.au

💬 SeeSaw – For day-to-day messages and learning updates

I check messages during work hours and will reply as soon as practical.

Home Reading

Students are encouraged to read at home daily. Even 10–15 minutes makes a big difference.

Homework

Homework may include reading, spelling, or short practice tasks. It is designed to reinforce learning, not overwhelm students.

Consistency is more important than length.

Teacher

My name is Jack Reynolds, and I joined the Walkaway team in mid 2025. A little bit about me: I'm a Geraldton local and have been teaching in and around the community for the past three years. I come from a farming background (Ajana), so I understand the trials and tribulations that accompany rural living (But don't tell the city folk just how amazing the lifestyle is; they'll all come flocking over like your sheep)

How Parents Can Help

You can support your child by:

- ✓ Encouraging regular reading
- ✓ Talking about what they learned at school
- ✓ Helping them stay organised
- ✓ Communicating any concerns early

We are a team around your child.
